Alchemy and Inquiry: Philip Taaffe, Fred Tomaselli and Terry Winters

Fred Tomaselli, Big Hummingbird, 2004

Terry Winters, Line, 2010

Philip Taaffe, Composition with Ornamental Fragments I, 2009 (detail)

Glyndor Gallery

APRIL 3–JUNE 19

For these three artists, making art is an engulfing activity that involves immersion in natural history, science and alchemy with inspiration that ranges from arcane botanical illustrations, to birding field guides and weather charts. Observing and being in nature is as potently informative for them as the study of how nature is represented in different cultures and in different ages. Organized by independent curator Raymond Foye and Senior Curator, Jennifer McGregor, Alchemy and Inquiry underscores this sense of discovery and transformation and situates this dynamic energy within the experience of the garden.

For the exhibition, Taaffe is working on paintings that are inspired by the epiphytes, or air plants, found in Wave Hill's Tropical House. Plants and botanicals are a significant source for Taaffe who will have a 10-year survey of his work at the Irish Museum of Modern Art in Dublin this spring. References to birds have been featured in Tomaselli's work over the past 15 years. "Second Sightings: A History of Ornithology in Riverdale, New York" published by Wave Hill in 1982, is a starting point for new work by Tomaselli. A traveling retrospective of his work was on view at the Brooklyn Museum last fall. Winters explores the relationship between biological systems and design principles in new paintings with the Glyndor Gallery space in mind. His work inaugurated the recently renovated Böhm Chapel in Huerth, outside of Cologne, Germany.

Welcome!

Dear Members and Friends,

In its illustrious 170-year history, stately Wave Hill House has been home to renowned artists, writers, musicians, publishers, curators, naturalists and scientists—and even a future United States President (yes, Theodore Roosevelt). The setting has inspired marriage proposals, weddings and memorials, concerts, workshops and lectures, as well as being home to the Sally and Gilbert Kerlin Learning Center and Wave Hill's acclaimed Family Art Project. Ever since the Perkins-Freeman family graciously donated the estate to the City of New York 45 years ago, Wave Hill House has been the backdrop for sharing many precious memories with your friends and family.

Through the generous support of the City of New York, devoted members of the Board of Directors and numerous private donors, we are honored to be treating this important landmark to a much-deserved and necessary renovation. Over the next 18 months, Wave Hill House will receive a head-to-toe restoration of its historic interior and exterior surfaces, system upgrades that will reduce energy consumption, improved accessibility for all of Wave Hill's visitors, a more welcoming and user-friendly Café, and a brighter and expanded Learning Center. During this time, we look forward to offering our members and visitors uninterrupted programs and services, many in new locations throughout our spectacular landscape. Wave Hill's website will keep you up-to-date on the restoration process, including renderings that illustrate what the future holds when we reopen. In the meantime, spring is on the horizon, Wave Hill remains open for business and all of us are eager to welcome you. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Wave Hill Programs

Garden & Nature

Garden Walks

Meet a Wave Hill Garden Guide for a garden and conservatory walk every Sunday at 2PM. Starting in April, walks also take place on Tuesdays at 11AM. Visit for the special walks described below. Unless otherwise noted, walks are free with admission to the grounds. All walks begin at the Perkins Visitor Center.

Behind-the-Greenhouse Tour

SAT, MARCH 19
Venture through closed doors for a behind-the-scenes garden tour of Wave Hill. Visit the snug winter quarters where tender potted plants spend the winter, and sneak a peek at the showy blooms awaiting their moment of glory in the Palm House. 2PM

Meet the Gardeners Walks

WEDNESDAYS, APRIL 13, MAY 11
Get an insider's view of Wave Hill! Chat with our talented gardeners in their own garden areas as they share current tasks, discuss favorite plants and describe their plans for the gardening season. Find out how garden magic really happens—with creativity and lots of hard work! 1PM

Wave Hill History Walks

SATURDAYS, APRIL 16, MAY 21
Discover the fascinating history of the gardens, buildings and the people who once called Wave Hill home, with Wave Hill Garden Guide and historian Deirdre La-Porte. 11AM

Earth Day Garden Walk

FRI, APRIL 22
Celebrate Earth Day on this kid-friendly garden walk. Hunt for early-blooming flowers, creepy crawly critters and other signs of spring with a garden interpreter. Ideal for ages 6 and up. Light rain or shine, so dress for the weather! 2PM

NYC Wildflower Week: Wildflower Walks

TUE, WED, THU, FRI, MAY 3, 4, 5, 6
Experience the floral splendors of spring on a garden tour with a garden interpreter. Observe favorite native wildflowers making their fleeting spring appearances and meet some of their close overseas relatives. 2PM

Memorial Day Garden Walk

MON, MAY 30
Join a Wave Hill Garden Guide for a tour of seasonal garden highlights. 2PM

FREE

Events are free unless otherwise indicated. Program fees include admission to the grounds, unless otherwise noted.

Beekeeping

Spring Hive Inspection

SAT, MAY 21
Don hat, veil and gloves—bring your own or borrow ours—and join urban beekeeper Roger Repohl for a hands-on look at the Wave Hill hives. Learn proper techniques to safely work with a hive filled with 50,000 honeybees. Beginning and experienced beekeepers welcome. $20 Member/$30 Non-Member. Registration required, online at www.wavehill.org, by calling 718.549.3200 x305 or at the Perkins Visitor Center. 11AM

Cooking

Seize the Bay

SAT, MARCH 12
The noble bay, Laurus nobilis, is an ancient herb symbolic of greatness and honor. Our large bay tree graces the Herb Garden during the warm months and moves indoors for a winter rest. Horticultural Interpreter Charles Day shares tips for growing your own noble bay and a guest chef from Great Performances cooks up a flavorful dish seasoned with fresh bay leaves. 2PM

Tree Giveaway

SUN, APRIL 10

Thanks to a partnership with Million-TreesNYC, Wave Hill welcomes families, individuals and community groups to pick up one free tree for planting on private property within the five boroughs of New York City. 9–11AM

Garden Workshops and Lectures

Alpine Trough Day

SAT, APRIL 30
Alpine troughs—hand-made rustic containers—function as miniature, self-contained rock gardens that display diminutive plants in a small amount of space. Assistant Director of Public Programs Laurel Rimmer instructs participants in the art of cultivating alpine plants in handmade troughs. Ages 12 and up welcome with an adult.

Make an Alpine Trough

Mix up a batch of 'hypertufa' and craft a small rustic trough to take home. $15 Member/$23 Non-member. Registration required, online at www.wavehill.org, by calling 718.549.3200 x305 or at the Perkins Visitor Center. Drop-ins welcome as supplies last. 10AM

Alpine Trough Walk

Get inspired by the unique collection of alpine plants artfully arranged in Wave Hill's T.H. Everett Alpine House. Registration not required. 1PM

Plant an Alpine Trough

Using a pre-made trough, select from a variety of alpine plants and create a miniature landscape for your garden, deck or terrace. $30 Member/$45 Non-member. Registration required, online at www.wavehill.org, by calling 718.549.3200 x305 or at the Perkins Visitor Center. Drop-ins welcome as supplies last. 2PM

Alpine Adventures in the Himalayas

SAT, MAY 7
British nurseryman Chris Chadwell is a modern-day plant hunter specializing in the flora of the Himalayas and the leading authority on the study and cultivation of the region's plants. Prepare to be amazed as he recounts tales of his expeditions in pursuit of rare medicinal and ornamental plants of the Himalayas. Co-sponsored with the Manhattan Chapter of NARGS (North American Rock Garden Society).

Tour of the T.H. Everett Alpine House

Begin your Alpine Adventures at the T.H. Everett Alpine House where Wave Hill Gardener Gelene Scarborough shows off Wave Hill's marvelous collection of alpine plants and troughs. NOON–1PM

Lilies, Lamas and Leeches: Plant Hunting in Nepal Share Chris Chadwell's adventures (and misadventures) plant hunting in Nepal. Discover the extraordinary range of rock garden plants—delicate Nepalese lilies, showy primulas and other exquisite alpinists—that flourish in the Himalayas. 2PM

Paradise on Earth: The Beautiful Alpines of Kashmir Known as the "Switzerland of the Himalayas", and considered by conquering Mogul emperors to be a "Paradise on Earth", Kashmir boasts turquoise glacial lakes and luxuriant pine forests. Chris Chadwell's stunning images illustrate the fabulous mountain flowers that thrive in this plant-hunters' paradise. 3PM

Birding Along the Hudson

SELECT SUNDAYS

Explore the Hudson River's avian ecology starting at the tip of Manhattan and migrating north. Walks are led by NYC Audubon naturalist Gabriel Willow, and alternate between Wave Hill on the second Sunday of each month and various off-site locations on the fourth Sunday of each month. Ideal for ages 10 and up. $10 Member/$18 Non-member. (NYC Audubon Members enjoy Wave Hill Member pricing. Members of other host organizations also enjoy Wave Hill Member prices when walks take place at their location.) Registration required, online at www.wavehill.org, by calling 718.549.3200 x305 or at the Perkins Visitor Center. Severe weather cancels. For weather-related updates, call 718.549.3200 x245 by 8AM the day of the walk. Offsite locations subject to change.

Restoration of a Grand Hudson River Valley Mansion

For the first time since Wave Hill House was built, it is undergoing a transformative restoration that will bring this elegant grand dame into the 21st century. Visitors can look forward to a handsome new Café space, a restored home for the Family Art Project in the Sally and Gilbert Kerlin Learning Center, a new air conditioning system and greater accessibility to all levels of the building—including ramps and an elevator. Built as a country home in 1843 and now listed on the National Register of Historic Places and as a New York City Landmark, Wave Hill House consists of a late Greek Revival core, a matching 19th-century extension to the north, a 1929 neo-Gothic great hall and a kitchen extension added in the 1930's. Look for updates on this important project as it gets underway. During the restoration, you can expect to enjoy all the amenities you are accustomed to at Wave Hill, including regular programming and food service.

Wave Hill, Inc. is an independent, non-profit cultural institution governed by a volunteer Board of Directors. The buildings and grounds of Wave Hill are owned by the City of New York. With the assistance of the Bronx Borough President, and Bronx representatives in the City Council and State Legislature, Wave Hill's operation is supported with public funds through the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs, the Zoos, Botanical Gardens and Aquariums Grant Program administered by the New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation, the National Endowment for the Arts and the New York State Council on the Arts, celebrating 50 years of building strong, creative communities in New York State's 62 counties.
