Welcome!

I think of summer as the season of freedom. The long days seem to relive me from the rigors of schedules and deadlines, and the sheer abundance of nature brings on my hedonistic streak.

Since coming to Wave Hill, I have really turned up the volume on summer. I walk through the gardens in the morning, take off my shoes and walk barefoot across the grounds to my office. In the afternoon, I feed hands under the big elm tree that shades the picnic area adjacent to Glyndor Gallery. I wander out to my office. The birds are starting to settle, the sun is beginning to descend over the Hudson, the gardens are fragrant and glowing with color, and I often find it hard to leave the property. I stroll down to a Wave Hill Chair and relax for the first time to enjoy my own picture display of sunsets. And then it’s time, I have the best job in the world.

Come and visit us here, and let Wave Hill work its magic on you. Gather together with your friends on the Great Lawn and listen to live music on a Sunset Wednesday. Experience the opulence of summer as I do, in the midst of this beloved garden.

Performing Arts

The words to the tune of "Mary Had a Little Lamb" are handed out to the audience, and at the third "me," the words are changed: "Mary Had a Little Lamb, His eyes were blue, he was singing a song about soil health." The nylon strings of a ukulele are struck, and the music becomes a rapid, rhythmic strumming of the chords. The words "blue eyes" are sung again, this time with a harmonica.
