

ENDORSED BY

STILL SACRED GROUND LENAPEHOKING 1625-2025

LADY CHIEFTAINS

SAUNKSQUAS AND THE 400 YEAR
DUTCH-INDIGENOUS ALLIANCE

Image of TSHUSICK. AN OJIBWAY WOMAN, by Alfred M. Hoffy

A MULTI-MUSEUM COMBINED INSTALLATION FEATURED THROUGH THE LENS OF INDIGENOUS MAPS THAT ARE PART OF A SERIES OF REGIONAL INDIGENOUS MAPS DOCUMENTED BY
EVAN T. PRITCHARD

THE INSTALLATION IS PAIRED WITH AN AUDIO TOUR OF LADY
CHIEFTAINS; SAUNKSQUA'S.
A PREMIER AUDIO TRANSCRIPTION OF COMMANDING INDIGENOUS FEMALE LEADERS.
ORATED AND CURATED BY OLEANA WHISPERING DOVE

VISIT A PARTICIPATING MUSEUM OR CULTURAL CENTER OCTOBER 11TH-30TH, 2025
BARTOW PELL MANSION MUSEUM, HISTORIC RICHMOND TOWN, SOUTH STREET SEAPORT MUSEUM, WAVE HILL
AS PART OF THE 400TH ANNIVERSARY BETWEEN THE INDIGENOUS LUUNAPE OF NEW YORK AND AMSTERDAM, THE INTERACTIVE, MULTI-MUSEUM ENGAGEMENT IS...

introduced Through the lens of an Indigenous Map Exhibition paired with Bloomberg Connects Audio tours, serves the purpose of presenting a cultural interpretation of the Indigenous Lunaape of New York, prior to 1654, with a laser-like focus on the women chieftains who, before Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman, Susan B. Anthony, Matilda Cage, Lucretia Mott, and Gloria Steinham, were Saunk Squa's: Nipapoa, Hidden Moon, Awashonks, Weetamoo, Sara OnePenny, Quashawam, and Molly Ockett.

These Native American lady saunksqua's held the highest-ranking offices in their communities and were referred to by European settlers as Her Royal Majesty, The King's Queen, and Indian Princess.

What was the landscape and community life of the place known then as Lenapehoking and known today as New York?

Who were the people the Dutch formed relations with? How did the streets get their names? Did the Dutch influence or impact New York's indigenous?

Our time portal answers questions about who the female Lenaape saunksqua's were and how they existed and governed entire regions within Lenaapehokng and beyond. The Indigenous time conduit will create a space for visitors of reflection, reverence, remembrance, and cultural exchange.

Visit 3 out of 4 locations and receive a gift when you show all 3 QR code receipts at your last location.